TEC AND YOU. IN '82.

A PLACE TO REFLECT

The artesian wells which feed TEC'S fountain have flowed for a long time.

Come, travel back in time to the "Roaring Twenties."

The year is 1929. It is the night of the Florence High School Junior-Senior Class Prom. Spring is in full bloom and the greenery and flowers around the two-acre pool pervade the atmosphere with promise.

The revolving, colored lights slide across the rippling water which we watch from the second floor of the huge dance pavilion.

We dance the "Charleston," the "Fox-Trot," or the "two-step" to the sounds of one of the era's big name bands as chaperones observe closely lest someone infringe upon the rules of good taste and propriety.

People continue to arrive in new Model-A Fords, although the dancing has begun. Streamers flow in the breeze and are thrown over the rafters of this barn-like wooden structure. The dance-floors are polished and slick and the walls are decorated in our school colors.

At an ordinary Friday night dance, it would cost $1 admission to listen to the music and $2 to dance. This seems high compared to the price of eggs (4¢ a dozen) and bread (5¢ a loaf). However, "Happy Hours," as the place is known, is advertise as the finest dance hall in the Carolinas.

This elegance passes from the scene and change occurs. Later that year, the building burns. It is not rebuilt. The property is sold to an innovative man who re-opens the pool under the name of "Midway" since it is located midway between Florence and Darlington.

The August heat envelops us as we visit "Midway" during the Depression. The economic situation hardly seems to have touched us here. Ladies in modest one-piece bathing suits and gentlemen in conservative swim trunks line up to climb the giant water slide, the only one of its kind in the area.

NINETEEN EIGHTY TWO

Out in the middle of "Midway" is an over-sized wagon wheel which revolves as swimmers play on it. Divers do jack-knives in the Darlington end while small children paddle about in the Florence end. Their childish shrieks of joy can be heard over the commotion of horseplay.

These times do not last long, however, as World War II takes its toll on our nation. The pool is abandoned and allowed to fall into a state of disrepair in which it remains through the sixties and the founding of Florence-Darlington TEC.

Vegetation, snakes, and insects have overtaken the location. Parts of the old walls are still there and you can see where the landscaped area once was. There are still pieces of the slide and wagon wheel strewn about.

The site has become a fishing spot for sportsmen and when the pool is finally drained, seven picnic coolers of bass and crappies are picked up.

However, the water from the three original wells is good and clear.

The year is now 1972. We survey the site with John Fanning, a Civil Engineering Technology instructor.

A circular fountain is to be built using the original water sources. A circulating pump will force the water into sprays. Three thousand gallons a day in a three-eights inch diameter pipe will flow from the wells.

Today, the fountain serves as the center of interest on our campus. Seen from Highway 52 it makes a breath-taking view in front of the contempory 5000 Building. From the cafeteria, it gives one a peaceful respire from classes. Faculty, staff and students are often seen near the fountain contemplating the future or perhaps journeying through the past.

IN MEMORIUM

JIMMY ALBERT MILLER

APRIL 24, 1961-OCTOBER 17, 1981

PEGGY ANN BROWN

DECEMBER 9, 1954-APRIL 20, 1982

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.
Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea:
Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof.
There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High.
God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.
The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice,
the earth melted.
The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.
Come, behold the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.
He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire.
Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen,
I will be exalted in the earth.
The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.

PSALM 46
